NEW YORK, 7; CHICAGO, 3. CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—New York won the last game of the series to-day. Krock and Keefe were batted equally hard, but the support of the Chicago pitcher was poor, while that of Keefe was excellent. The game was uninteresting, the only features being the batting of Richardson and Burns. The attendance was 8,000.

ST. LOUIS, 14; CINCINNATI, 2. Sr. Louis, Sept. 14.-The St. Louis club jumped on Cincinnati to-day and gave them a fearful drubbing. Mullane was hit very hard in the first four innings, Lyons, O'Neill, Milligan and Comisky scoring home runs. Chamberlain had the visitors at his mercy, and they failed to bunch their hits at any stage of the game. There were 4,000 persons in attendance. In the ninth inning, with the bases full, Milligan sent the ball over the left field fence for a Close of the Hampden Park Meeting. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept 14.—The successful circuit meeting at Hampden Park was closed this afternoon. The track was fast and the weather perfect. There was disappointment in the result of the guaranteed stake for 2:28 trotters. Great things were expected of Guy, but in the first heat he was over a quarter of a mile behind when the others came under the wire. The performance of the pacer Johnston, late in the afternoon, was the event of the meeting. It was announced that he would attempt to break the quarter mile record with a running mate.

After a warming-up mile he was let out at the three-quarter post and came down to the wire in 291 seconds. This is the fastest time for the distance ever made on any track in the world. Guy, with running mate, was sent a mile between heats to beat his own record of 2:15. He failed. His time was: Quarter, 33\(\frac{3}{2}\); half, 1:08\(\frac{1}{2}\); three-quarters, 1:43; mile, 2:16\(\frac{1}{2}\).

The unfinished 2:33 trotting race was first called. Elda B. won in straights. In the last heat of this race Mabel S. caught her hind foot in the forward boot, near the upper distance stand, and turned a complete somersault, throwing her driver over her head. Neither horse nor driver were injured. Mabel, however, was distanced. Summary of the 2:33 class; purse, $1,500.

Time-2:331: 2:213: 2:2213. In the $5,000 guaranteed stake, for trotters of the 2:28 class, Guy was the favorite at $100; Jack, $90; Grayling, $40; Geneva S., $40, and the field. $40. Geneva S. took the first heat, but Jack (the favorite after Guy's distance) took the next three heats and the race. Summary:

Time-2:20, 2:193, 2:203, 2:223. In the 2:17 class, pacing, Roy Wilkes was fa-vorite, $100 to $80 for the lot, and won in straights. Summary:

Racing at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.-Two thousand people took advantage of the beautiful weather to-day to witness some very good racing at Washington Park. The track was in fine condition. Mr. Gray, the owner of Galen, was asked by an Associated Press reporter, this afternoon, if he contemplated trying to arrange a match later in the season between his colt and the crack twoyear-old Kentneky colt Proctor Knott, who defeated Galen in the futurity stakes. Mr. Gray said that he had not the remotest idea of doing so. His col t was entered in a number of stake events, which, he said, were more valuable to him than a match with Proctor Knott for a big stake. He was opposed to such events on general principles, as they created discord and bitter feeling among race people. He did not care to push Galen too hard this season. Galen will start next at Latonia.

GRAND ARMY ENCAMPMENT

Commander-in-Chief William Warner and Other New Officials Installed.

List of the New Council of Administration and Staff Appointments-Action by Mexican Veterans and Woman's Relief Corps.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14.—The closing day of the Grand Army encampment is blessed with the same perfect weather that has done so much to make the occasion a successful and memorable one. Last night many visitors left with the posts of veterans from all quarters, but thousands still remain, who seem never to weary of camp-fires and reunions. Until late in the night the various camp-fires were kept brightly burning, and every street corner and other place of meeting became the scene of a reunion. Serenades added to the interest of the night, bands and drum corps vying with each other in the attempt to make the most enjoyable serenade. Outgoing trains are loaded down, but a great many still remain to see the many sights of the city. the public instituions and the Ohio Centennial being the especial attractions.

At to-day's session of the encampment Senior Vice-commander Cole, of St. Louis, presided, and the report of the committee on administration was first made. They reported the treasury in a good condition. A recommendation to increase the per capita tax to 4 cents per quarter was defeated unanimously. It was decided that the judge-advocate-general and inspector-general should be made salaried positions.

The new council of administration was announced as follows:

Arkansas, Lafayette Gregg, Fayetteville; California, George E. Gard, Los Angeles: Colorado, Charles F. Harkinson, Denver; Connecticut, Henry N. Fanton, Danbury; Dakota, E. Smith, Grand Forks; Delaware, James Harkness, Pleasant Hill; Florida, S. W. Fox, Jacksonville; Gulf, J. M. Lawler, New Orleans; Illinois, John J. Heley, Chicago; Indiana, Allan H. Dougall, Fort Wayne: Idaho, W. T. Ryley, Harley; Iowa, H. M. Pickell, Des Moines; Kansas, George K. Spencer, Grove City; Kentucky, Daniel O'Riley, Litchfield; Maine, Chester A. Rockland: Massachusetts, E. B. Macey, Fitchburg; Michigan, R. A. Alger, Detroit; Maryland, William A. McKellip, Westminster; Minnesota, Lewis Marsh, Minneapolis; Missouri, Frank Anderson, Marysville; Montana, Pierce Hooper, Livingstone, Nebraska, T. S. Clarkson, Omaha; New Hampshire, Wm. S. McMasters, Portland; Pennsylvania, Wm. McClellan, Pittsburg; Potomac, Amos J. Gunning, Washington City; Rhode Island, Henry C. Luther, Providence; Tennessee and Georgia, Frank A. Seaman, Knoxville; Texas, W. H. Nye, Fort Worth; Utah, Jas. F. Bradley, Salt Lake; Vermont, Fred E. Smith, Montpelier; Virginia, Henry D. Nichols. Nor-folk; Washington Territory, A. P. Curry, Spo-kane Falls; West Virginia, T. H. Duval, Wellsburg; Wisconsin, Geo. C. Ginty.

A committee, consisting of Gen. S. H. Hurst, Col.; Moses H. Neil, J. W. Chapin and David Lanning, was appointed to investigate a complaint from some members that their railroad tickets were not taken in exchange for others, as had been promised them.

The following resolutions were introduced and ananimously adopted by a rising vote, in silence: Whereas. Since the meeting of the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, held one year ago, our comrade, Philip H. Sheridan, the general-in-chief of the army of the United States, has passed over the river of death to the great beyond;

Resolved. That with sincere sorrow we mourn the loss of one of the brave defenders of the Nation, whose heroic courage in the hours of peril, snatching victory from defeat, and whose untiring energy has challenged the admiration of the world, and has placed his name on the pages of history among the foremost of the illustrious soldiers of his own age as well as those of the past.

Resolved, That in the life of our late comrade inarms we recognize that type of manhood which characterizes the man born and reared under our institutions, blending the citizen with the soldier, and whose lofty patriotism so guided and molded ambition that it was formidable only to the enemies of his country. Resolved. That our deep sympathy be extended to his sorrowing family in this, their hour of grief, and we assure them, while we mourn with them the loss of the loving husband and tender father, we ever cherish with pride the memory of Philip H. Sheridan.

The installation of the new officers was very impressive, the oath of office being administered by Past Commander Beath. Retiring Commander-in-Chief Rea, who has been sick for a day or more, introduced his successor, Commander-in-Chief William Warner, who thanked his predecessor for his kind words. He said many had returned home with grateful memories of this occasion, and continued:

"While the Grand Army is now at the summit of its prosperity. I hope it will soon be with every department, as was said of the department of Vermont, that there was not in that State a single honorably discharged soldier who was not a member or had given an apology or a reasonable excuse for his failure to become a member of the Grand Army. To-day we have a mission to perform—that of perpetuating the mission of our order. It was his hope that he might leave the comradeship of the Grand Army in the same proud position as his predecessor, and that would be as much a legacy as he could leave his children. You have by resolution expressed gratitude to the good citizens of Columbus for their hospitality, which was justly due them. I desire to say that I was pained and surprised at an article I heard read in the encampment this morning, which misrepresented the true condition of affairs as we found them. To illustrate the hospitality of the citizens of this city, I must tell you what was told me this morning. Several of the delegates who were waiting for the parade to move, and being a little old, concluded to rest the best they could. On looking around, the only available place was the steps of a handsome private residence. They regarded it as a little cheeky to unceremoniously take possession, but their weariness overcame their scruples. Accordingly they went in, and soon the doors opened and they expected to hear something uncomplimentary. It is hardly necessary to say that they were Eastern comrades. Judge of their surprise when the lady, who appeared at the door, introduced herself as the lady of the house and informed them that lunch was awaiting them. The amazing part was that they accepted the invitation. That act was characteristic of our reception, and never before have I seen a crowd so contented, and never an encampment better entertained. When we go to Milwaukee, next year, you will meet with your old Commander-in-Chief, and every man, woman and child in the city is his friend. You will be certain to meet with a generous reception. I accept the office of commander inchief, fully realizing its responsibilities, and now we will proceed to business." The commander-in-chief then announced the following staff officers: Eugene F. Wygel, of Missouri, adjutant-general; John Taylor, of Pennsylvania, quarter-master-general, and George S. Evans, of Massachusette, inspector-general. The encampment was then declared closed; comrades being enjoined to return home with

"hearts abounding in fraternity, charity and The National Association of Mexican Veterans elected the following officers: President, James W. Denver; secretary, A. M. Kenady; assistant, James N. Smith; marshal, Major McFaddon. At their closing meeting this afternoon, resolutions were adopted demanding for themselves more liberal pensions from the general government.

After closing addresses and farewell greetings they adjourned sine die. The business to-day of the Woman's Relief Corps was the election of officers. Mrs. Charity R. Craig, of Wisconsin, was elected president; Mrs. Eva Lynch, of Pennsylvania, senior vicepresident; Mrs. Izetta Small, of Maine, junior vice-president; Mrs. L. A. Turner, of Massachusetts, treasurer; Mrs. Jones, chapiain.

At the Neil camp, to-day, where 40,000 men had yesterday been the inhabitants of a tented city, a scene of much interest was witnessed. The tents were nearly all vacant, but at the big dining-hall in south Neil camp was in progress an act of charity that will be a source of much comfort and relief to the poor of Columbus. Butler, Crawford & Co., who have the big dining-halls at the different camps, had provided more liberally than was needed, and they to-day gave to the poor of the city all of their large stock of surplus perishable provisions.

The announced Grand Army races did not materialize at the Centennial grounds, no entries being made. A camp-fire occupied the Centennial Coliseum during the afternoon, and to-night one is in order at the big tent. Commander-in-chief Warner to-night issued his first official order, as follows: HEADQUARTERS. GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14, 1888. [General Orders, No. 1.] Having been elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic by the members of the twenty-second national encampment, held at Columbus, O., I take this occasion to thank the comrades for this most distinguished mark of their confidence for this most distinguished mark of their confidence and esteem, and, in assuming command, hereby announce the following appointments on my staff: Adjutant-general, Eugene F. Weigel, St. Louis; quarter-master-general, John Taylor, Philadelphia, Pa.; inspector-general, George S. Evans, Cambridge, Mass. The headquarters of the Grand Army of the Republic are hereby established at Kansas City, Mo. Further announcement of officers elected and appointed will be made in subsequent orders.

By command of WILLIAM WARNER,

Commander-in-chief.

Commander-in-chief. The closing exercises consisted of a grand camp-fire in the big tent of the Army of West Virginia. Seven or eight thousand were on hand to enjoy the exercises of the evening. Captain Rife presided. After some recitations by Jennie O'Neill Potter, Past Commander Fairchild spoke, addressing himself to the young people to explain the dark side of the war, stating that the warm fraternal feeling of the comrades is based on blood that was shed and hearts that were wrung in anguish during the war. It was not a picnic, but a sad and terrible war.

Col. George W. F. Vernon, of Baltimore, made an emphatic statement regarding the "bounteous and magnificent entertainment" of the city of Columbus. Gen. B. P. Kelly, first of the commanders of West Virginia, was welcomed with great applause, but owing to injury in the service could not speak. Commander-in-chief William Warner was inroduced, and spoke of the principles for which the old veterans had fought, and advocated justice to the veterans who were disabled in the service. While proud of the mistaken bravery of those who opposed, he was prouder of the brayery of those who saved the Nation. In conclusion, he cited the universal praise of the veterans for the Columbus reception and entertainment, and said he felt it an insuls to the G. A. R. for any one to insult the people that have thus treated them. Captain A. E. Lee, who was in charge of the local arrangements for the encampment, was introduced, and spoke briefly of the success of the encampment. Gen. S. H. Hurst and Gen. W. H. Gibson, of Ohio, concluded the meeting. Real Estate Transfers.

Arrested for Grand Lurceny. Charles F. Simmons, dealer in poultry, at the corner of Pearl and Missouri streets, was arrested last night, at 12 o'clock, charged with grand larceny and embezzlement, on a warrant sween out by Arthur Jordan. The latter charges that Simmons, who has been in his employ since June, yesterday stole $205 in cash, 800 pounds of butter and a pair of scales, which he values at $40. Simmons claims that a great injustice has been done him; that on June 6 he gave a mortgace to Jordan which was payable on Thursday. The mortgage was closed on the day named. Simmons says because he purchased a lot of butter from persons who have heretofore sold to Jordan the latter became angry. He asserts that he has the recey to pay for the butter he bought, and that the other charges against him are groundless.
